BOLEN AND CLARK DEBATE

BIG CROWD HEARS CHAMPIONS DISCUSS DEMOCRACY AND SOCIALISM.

Yesterday evening Stanley Clark and J. W. Bolen held the first of their debates on the relative merits of socialism and democracy. A large crowd was on hand and both speakers were frequently applauded.

Clark led off with a speech of fifteen minutes. It was about the most moderate socialist speech ever heard, lacking most of the fireworks, fulminations, abuse and reeking hatred that characterize the average socialist speech. He devoted practically all of his remarks to a consideration of what the socialists demand in the immediate present and contented himself with the statement that the ultimate end of the movement was the realization of a dream of the universal brotherhood of man saying little about what it would do if the whole machinery of government were once in socialist hands.

Clark denied that socialism favored the collective ownership of any property other than that which was used for the purpose of exploiting the public and in industries where competition has ceased. According to Clark the government should provide employment for all unemployed by loaning money without interest to states and municipalities for carrying on public works and advocated greenback and populistic doctrine of issuing whatever quantity of paper money was needed. He insisted that the day of competition had passed and declared that the only hope of the country lies in the taking over of the big trusts by the government and supplying the necessities of life at actual cost. He scored the United States courts for usurping the powers rightfully belonging to the legislative branch of the government.

In a speech of an hour and twenty minutes J. W. Bolen replied to Clark. He referred to the fact that until the civil war the democratic party had been in power nearly all of the time and that during this period prosperity prevailed, and no one ever heard of either a tramp or a trust. He traced the growth of the big interests under the fostering care of a prohibitive tariff and declared for a return to first principles. With the tariff wall broken down and competition restored the cost of living would again become normal and there would be no need for new experiments in government. He paid his respects to the socialist platform for making no mention of that issue. He then took a fall out of Clark on the usurpation of power by the courts. He also scored the rank and file of the socialist party, whom he gave full credit for honest intentions, for taking everything as true that Clark and others told them, without making any investigation for themselves. He closed his speech with a severe arraignment of the party for its fight against the grandfather clause and advocacy of universal suffrage which would permit the most vicious and degraded negro woman to vote side by side with refined ladies.

RESTRICTIONS HOLD GOOD

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS McCUMBER ACT—MANY TITLES AFFECTED.

Washington, May 15.—Three centuries of civilization have not brought the full-blood Indian to the point where his rights equal those of a white man. Such was the decision today of the supreme court in holding constitutional the twenty-five year restriction on Indian lands.

Associate Justice Day of the United States supreme court this afternoon handed down a far-reaching opinion and one that will affect the titles to thousands of acres of inherited full-blooded lands in Oklahoma when the decision in the Marchie Tiger case was reversed with costs and remanded. Justice Day in handing down his opinion which will have the effect of nullifying hundreds of transfers of full-blood property held that the government had not yet released its guardianship over full-bloods of the five civilized tribes and that no transfers inherited full blood lands could be made without the approval of the secretary of the interior.

The title of the case decided today was that of Marchie Tiger vs. Western Investment company, of Coweta, the latter having purchased inherited lands in Creek nation of deceased full-blood Indian. The decision sustains the constitutionality of the McCumber amendment and will indirectly affect adversely the defendants in thirty thousand land suits in which Senator Owen is one of the principal defendants.

He closed by reading an excerpt from a socialist text book in which it advocated removing all barriers between races and scored the party for adhering to such doctrine.

Runaway Boys Brought Home.

Yesterday Joe Foster, who is in charge of the county road gang, located three Ada boys who were passing through Vanoss in a freight car, having decided to leave home. He brought them in and turned them over to Judge Barton, who has put them to work learning his constitution and statutes for juveniles. None of the boys complained of any ill treatment at home, but just wanted to see something of the world.

Interurban Track Laying.

Muskogee, Ok., May 15.—The first track on a new interurban being built by C. N. Haskell and associates from here to Tahlequah and Tulsa was laid today. Several thousand people gathered at the Muskogee terminus to celebrate. Two golden spikes were driven, one by Mayor Middleton and the other by President Spauld of the Commercial Club.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB EXPECTS YOU.

This evening is the time set for the completion of the organization of the Commercial Club. It is a matter of utmost importance and no man can afford to pass it up lightly. Come and if you have any new ideas to not be afraid to speak out, for the town needs the combined wisdom of its best thinkers and most aggressive hustlers. At the quarters of the 25,000 club.

STATEMENT

THE ADA ENTERPRISE HAS NO CONNECTION WITH THE NEWS PUBLISHING AND PRINTING CO.

The News Company, being informed that it is more or less the information of the public that the Ada Enterprise is but a part of the concern of the News Company and only operated to eliminate or intimidate newspaper competition in this field, it is regarded as only fair to Mr. Orel Harper to state as follows to the public:

When Mr. Orel Harper, lately of Oklahoma City, but who resided in Ada several years, informed the proprietors of the Ada papers and its job office, also the local business public, that he proposed the opening of a job office, and the publication of a weekly paper in Ada, the News company felt it had a right and saw fit to promote, in every way possible, an arrangement whereby there should not be further competition in its field, which it regarded as assuredly amply covered; and to that end there was an urgency that Mr. Harper buy either the Ada Enterprise or the Ada sole job office, or both, under consolidation.

He finally expressed a willingness to consider propositions to buy one or both of the News' competitive businesses, indicating that he might do so if the prices of one, or both, exactly suited and if he should regard it to his interest.

The outcome was, he did buy the larger part of the old Ada Democrat plant, now the Ada Enterprise, which had last fall been sold to Mr. C. C. Galloway, but who, for a consideration, agreed to relinquish his equity.

Since Mr. Harper is now sole owner of the Enterprise, having bought it in good faith, the News feels it an imperative duty, since he has requested it, to state, unequivocally, that the News Pub. and Ptg. Co., nor any of its officers or near friends are in any way connected with the Ada Enterprise and that the consideration for which it was sold has been received.

While the report that the Ada Enterprise was but an adjunct to the News could have but damaged the Ada Enterprise, which is the successor to the former Ada Republican, and could have resulted in no hurt to the News, at least in a business way, for the reasons above stated, the public is made acquainted with the exact facts, to which above, we, the principal officers of the News Pub. and Ptg. Co., respectfully beg to affirm as true. Signed,

O. B. WEAVER, President.

TWO DEBATES WITH SOCIALISTS

As the News goes to press a debate is in progress between R. C. Roland and Mr. Snow, a socialist speaker of note. It has been impossible for the reporter to be present, but as Roland has been posting up on socialistic doctrine from their own books he will give a good account of himself.

This evening the second debate between J. W. Bolen and Stanley Clark is scheduled and judging from the one of last evening it will be highly entertaining. Bolen has the affirmative side this time and will expound sound democratic doctrine, while Clark will attack same.

LABOR WINS GREAT VICTORY

SUPREME COURT REVERSES CONTEMPT CASES AGAINST LABOR LEADERS.

Washington, D. C., May 15.—The United States supreme court today handed down a decision reversing the decision of the District of Columbia court of appeals that confirmed the decision of the district court holding Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison guilty of contempt of court in violating the injunction against the boycott of the federation of labor in the Bucks Stove and Range case.

As a result of the decision Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, president, vice president and secretary of the federation will not have to serve all sentences for contempt. The labor leaders were completely triumphant in their cases, the supreme court dismissing the cases on the grounds that they were not properly adjudged in contempt but should have been damage suits against the labor leaders by the Bucks Stove company.

This is the most sweeping victory for union labor in its history in the United States.

Defendants Absent.

The decision was read by Associate Justice Lamar one of the new members on the bench. The defendants were not in court but the news was quickly conveyed to them at American Federation of Labor headquarters where a large number of labor leaders had gathered in expectation that a verdict would be handed down today and Gompers and Morrison received one of the greatest ovations of their lives.

History of Case.

The Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis, Mo., obtained an injunction in the supreme court of the District of Columbia December 18, 1907, forbidding the labor leaders from interfering with the business of the Bucks Stove and Range company. It was made permanent by Justice Claiborne of the supreme court of the district on March 26, 1908.

On Unfair List.

Prior to the time that the injunction was made permanent there appeared in the American Federationist the name of the Bucks Stove and Range Company under the "unfair list," a violation of the terms of the temporary injunction. Attorneys for the Bucks company immediately petitioned the court to adjudge Samuel Gompers, president, John Mitchell, vice president and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, in contempt of court. Upon hearing the charge of contempt which was brought to the attention of the court, Justice Wright of the district supreme court, sentenced the labor leaders to jail, imposing a year's sentence on Gompers; nine months on Mitchell and six months on Morrison. The case was appealed.

to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. In its decision the opinion of the lower court was modified. The court declared that no publication could be forbidden except in cases where conspiracy to boycott existed. From this decision an appeal was taken to the United States supreme court. In the briefs filed with the supreme court, the attorneys for the labor leaders, Judge Alton B. Parker of New York; Jackson H. Ralston, W. E. Richardson and F. L. Sidons and John T. Washington, claimed that the courts of the District of Columbia erred in their judgments.

MEXICANS MAY MAKE PEACE

Juarez, Mex., May 15.—Provisional President Francisco I. Madero, Jr., at the conclusion of a conference with Judge Carbajal, the federal peace envoy, at 9:30 o'clock, announced that there was a strong probability that peace would be restored in Mexico within a short time.

"Judge Carbajal brought some propositions," said Senator Madero to an Associated Press representative "and I made some modifications in our original propositions. In fact, these concessions, slight though they may be, were made to show our willingness to meet the government half way, and after our military triumphs it more than indicates our good disposition to treat for peace."

Senator Madero declared he would have another conference tomorrow night with Judge Carbajal, by which time the latter will have received a reply from the Mexican government to the propositions discussed with Senator Madero tonight which he transmitted immediately after the conference. Senator Madero admitted that the next move on the peace checker board was up to the government, but he talked as if tomorrow would witness a favorable reply from the government which would immediately end the revolution.

Basis For Sentiment.

There is a belief tonight, however, that the government may promise four members of the cabinet after President Diaz resigns and Senator De La Barra is made provisional president.

A reorganization of the cabinet will follow as a matter of course, and supporters of the federal government are inclined to believe a radical delivery of power into the hands of the insurgents by giving them four portfolios, might be better at that time for the peace of the country than now, when sudden changes provoke crises.

After the bartering is over, the insurgents may be persuaded to consent to 12 governors and three cabinet members, an arrangement which some of the go-betweens not long ago said the authorities at Mexico would accept.

The matter of the governorships and cabinet members is the principal consideration upon which peace will be made. Already there is an understanding about such conditions as the indemnities of the revolution, the pensions of soldiers, etc.

CANCELS GAMES WITH EDMOND

On account of the indifference of the public in buying tickets sufficient to guarantee the Ada team against financial loss, the games scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday with the Edmond team have been called off. As these promised to be two of the best games of the season it is deeply regretted that it has been found necessary to cancel these games.

Sunday afternoon at Roff Mr. D. W. Babb and Miss Hazel Keltner surprised their many friends by entering the happy state of matrimony. Both young people are well known at Ada and have a host of friends to wish them happiness.

It is only natural that a powder which soothes and refreshes your skin will bring comfort and beauty. No housewife would think of paying the same price for every baking powder on the market. There is just as much difference in talcum powders, but few people know it, and all powders sell at about the same price.

You owe it to yourself to be careful what you put on your face. It is just as important as what you eat. The talcum we sell is made from the purest and best materials. It costs us more than the other kind but it DOESN'T COST YOU ANY MORE. If it pays us to sell this kind on a far smaller margin of profit, it stands to reason that it pays you to buy it.

The Marchie Tiger Case.

The supreme court has handed down a decision in the Marchie Tiger case which is of the greatest importance to Oklahoma of any that ever affected this section. It is held that the inherited lands of full blood Indians cannot be sold without the consent of the secretary of the interior. The News is not fully advised concerning the text and extent of this decision, but a man who is well posted on Indian affairs gives it as his opinion that all transfers of such lands made between the taking effect of the McCumber act, April 26, 1906, to the taking effect of the law partially removing restrictions, July 28, 1908, are invalidated. Of course that will affect a great deal of land in this section, and will give outsiders a scare of titles that will retard the growth of eastern Oklahoma for years to come. However, the removal of the uncertainty is worth something, although the price paid comes extremely high.

WILLIARD WINS IN FOUR ROUNDS

Oklahoma City, May 16.—In the fourth round of a scheduled fifteen round exhibition, Jess Willard of Oklahoma City, was given the decision over Bill Schiller of Kentucky, before the Benevolent Athletic association Monday night.

Willard was given the decision in the early part of the fourth round.
The session had no more than started when Willard rushed Schiller, who sank to one knee, seemingly exhausted. Willard stood over him, and his manager, Patsy Corrigan, the referee, rushed Schiller to his corner and held up Willard's arm.

The crowd hooted the decision for few moments. Schiller halted the crowd on its way out and announced that he was not exhausted and that he was ready to go on.

There was a fair sized crowd present, many coming in anticipation of seeing intervention from the sheriff's office, which had been threatened early in the afternoon. There was no trouble and every event was staged without interruption.

Schiller Not Fit.

The main event was rather disappointing to the crowd which had hoped to see a man of worth pitted against Willard. Schiller entered the ring flabby and soft. He is a big, bushy individual, but his punches lacked steam and although he hit Willard frequently, the big fellow was never fazed and the blows did not trouble him. Schiller's stomach and chest were a mass of fat.

Willard seems to have made a big improvement and he was in better condition Monday night than he has been for any of his previous engagements. His defensive work is clever and fast, but he lacks the ability on the offensive. Several times during the exhibition he overlooked openings which would have proved fatal to him had he been pitted against a man of class.

Three good preliminaries were staged by the association. Nick Langford and Leon Pasco, negroes, boxed six flashing rounds, Langford getting the decision, although it was a hairline one. Both boys were in excellent condition and they mixed matters throughout. Al Mitchell was given the decision over Kid Hill in the third round of the second event. Both men were big negroes. Hill challenges any heavyweight in the world.

For the semi-windup Nate Jackson and Kid Edwards were scheduled for a six-round exhibition which went only two rounds, Jackson getting the decision. He had several pounds advantage in weight over his opponent, who was game, and the boys boxed all over the ring.

said Willard. "I didn't extend myself.

GREEKS WHO ARE GERMANS

Many of the Descendants of the Followers of King Otho I. Are Found In and Near Athens.

A visitor to Athens who goes to the neighboring village of Heraclea is surprised to see children with blue eyes and light hair playing in the streets; in fact they are little folk who resemble but remotely the descendants of Pericles.

These children on the Greek soil are descendants of the suite and followers of King Otho I. When the prince of Bavaria was called to the throne of Greece in 1832 he was accompanied by soldiers, officials, professional men, workmen and shopkeepers. In plain language a good part of the contingent was a motley crowd of adventurers.

Most of these remained behind after the fall of the dynasty, and occupying good positions today in Athens are the bearers of names unquestionably German, for instance Hoesslin, Rlenck and Schaurth.

The Bavarian king and queen encouraged the settlement of their countrymen in Greece. Queen Amelia created a model farm in Pyros Amalias, but the land uncultivated has now returned to a state of nature. The king founded a village upon which he bestowed the ancient title of Heraclea, and in view of the brigandage he surrounded it with walls and gates. At the four corners he erected small forts. It had new town houses for 60 families specially reserved for Bavarian artisans, but only forty were ever occupied.

After the troubles of 1843 13 families quitted the township, and the German population has since then continued to decrease, but those who have remained do not seem to have contracted Greek marriages.—Munchner Nachrichten.

ADHESIVE PLASTER USEFUL

It is invaluable to Mend Rubber Goods, Cover Cuts and Bruises and for Other Purposes.

A spool of good adhesive plaster is worth its weight in gold in the home, both as a means of saving the housekeeper's time and as a general repairer. Secure the best grade of non-irritating adhesive used for surgical purposes. It is comparatively inexpensive and comes in different widths.
Either warm it before applying or pass a warm iron over it after it is in place.

I have found it invaluable to mend rubber goods of all kinds, hot water bags, garden hose, mackintoshes, gloves, handbags, and to replace the worn heel linings of my shoes, thus saving both pain and money. It furnishes an ever ready waterproof covering for cuts and bruises, and may be used to hold dressings in place. It is an ideal substance with which to mend corsets, repairing breaks or holding protruding steels back in place. It may also be used to stop cracks and to exclude light and air or to make fumigation more thorough.
A tight bandage of it will mend a splintered handle or chair leg. Apply it to the under side of a rug that curls or is torn and see how nicely it remedies the trouble. It makes excellent labels for fruit or jelly, as the back may be lettered with ink and it is the finest thing imaginable with which to fasten a mail or express package—and this isn't a title of its uses, either.—Woman's Home Companion.

Dubious Work.

More than thirty years ago, when Colonel Frobel of Atlanta was called on to gage the water in a neighboring stream, he one day had an amusing encounter with an old farmer who came along on a wood cart, drawn by an ox.

When he reached the colonel, he stopped the cart, and inquired, peremptorily:

"What on 'arth are them men doin' thar?"

"They are trying to find out how many bucketfuls of water run down this creek in 24 hours," said the colonel.

"Mister, are that a true fact?" asked the farmer.

"Yes, that's just what it is," said the colonel.

"Well, mister," said the old man, in a tone of much disapproval and anxiety, "it mought be all right, but it do appear to me such doin's are on-constitutional." — Youth's Compan-

Rhodes' Art Fad.

Although Cecil Rhodes was a busy man he got time for a certain amount of reading. He made it a rule, although very fond of good pictures, never to buy any for fear of developing a craze for collecting works of art, for with all his wealth he felt that he could not afford to spend so much money on a fad. The only famous painting that he owned was one by Sir Joshua Reynolds, supposed to represent a young married woman, which hung in the dining-room over the fireplace. As a boy he had taken a great fancy to the picture, and when he grew up and became rich he bought it.

Tit for Tat.

"Dear Clara," wrote the young man;
"pardon me, but I'm getting so forgetful. I proposed to you last night, but really forget whether you said yes or no."

"Dear Will," she replied by note;
"so glad to hear from you. I know I said yes to some one last night, but I had forgotten just who it was."—

COUNCIL PLANS

FOR RESERVOIR

One of the first things taken up last evening by the city council was the settlement of the long and short term question of the aldermen, all eight having been elected at the same time. It was agreed that they should draw lots for the one and two year terms, and the drawing resulted in Ebey, Lasater, Clark and Ellison getting the long terms and Timberlake, Ratliff, Floyd and Wyomore drawing the one year term. It was agreed that bannisters should be placed across the bridge over the branch on West 12th street and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee for action.

A ballot for city engineer resulted in the election of Mr. Thurmond of Sherman, Texas.

A session was held this morning to consider bids on the construction of a pumping station at Byrd's Mill. When the matter was taken up a motion prevailed that the building be made of concrete. The contract was awarded to Hoff & Williams for $2,505.

A resolution was adopted declaring it to be the sense of the council that a reservoir be constructed that will hold in reserve 750,000 gallons of water for any emergency that might arise. It will probably be placed near the standpipe and built of concrete. It is also thought possible that an electric pump might be installed which will pump the water directly into the mains in case of fire and give a much greater pressure than could otherwise be obtained. The matter was referred to the water committee and will probably be acted upon at next meeting.

Cement Company's Water Supply Short.

The cement company seems to be up against it sure enough in the matter of securing water. When the pipe line was moved from the quarry well to a hole near the mouth of Sandy it was thought that the problem was solved, but that hole has been pumped dry and the main must be extended about a mile farther down. The cement mill will probably be forced to shut down a day or two in consequence, unless a rain comes within the immediate future.

W. C. Rollow will soon be the possessor of one of the best residences in Ada. He has let the contract for a $5,000 reinforced concrete structure to be erected on his lots at the corner of 16th and Rennie. J. B. Giles is the architect and the Ada Construction Co. the contractors for the work. Building operations will begin immediately.

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE AND CURES CATARRH

Catarrh usually begins with irritated, inflamed membranes of the head, nose and throat, from which there is a constant and copious discharge of watery matter. This comes from inflammation of these mucous surfaces and is caused by catarrhal matters and impurities in the circulation. Nature intends that these membranes shall be nourished by the blood, but waste matters and impurities deposited into these delicate parts, sets up inflammation and the discharge is a natural result. When this secretion begins to dry it becomes thick and sticky, adhering to the back portion of the mouth and throat, causing the "hawking" and straining so troublesome to Catarrh sufferers.

I suffered for a long time with a bad case of Catarrh. I had a continual headache, my cheeks grew purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath had a sickening and disgusting odor and I coughed incessantly. I heard of your S. S. S. and commenced to use it, and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease.

MRS. MARY L. WESSERMAN
4449 Vista Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

I had all the symptoms that accompany Catarrh, such as mucus dropping in the throat, a constant desire to hawk and spit, feeling of dryness in the throat, cough and spitting up on arising in the morning, etc. I had thus suffered for five years. I commenced to take S. S. S., and after I had taken three large bottles, I noticed a change for the better, thus encouraged, I continued to take it, and in a short while was entirely cured.

impurities. Then the inflamed membranes heal, the discharge is checked, head noises cease, the stomach is toned up, and the throat is no longer clogged with mucus. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

GOVERNMENT WINS OIL CASE

LONG LITIGATION ENDS IN TRIUMPH OVER BIG COMBINE. MUST DISSOLVE IN SIX MONTHS.

Washington, May 15.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its nineteen subsidiary corporations, were decided by the Supreme Court the United States today to be a conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade. It also was held to be monopolizing interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The dissolution of the combination was ordered to take place within six months.

Thus ended the tremendous struggle on the part of the government to put down, by authority of law, a combination which it is claimed was a menace to the industrial and economic advancement of the entire country.

Interprets Anti-Trust Law.

At the same time the court interpreted the Sherman anti-trust law so as to limit its application to acts of "undue" restraint of trade and not "every" restraint of trade. It was on this point that the only discordant note was heard in the court. Justice Harlan dissented, claiming that cases already decided by the court had determined once for all that the word "undue" or "unreasonable" or similar words, were not in the statute. He declared that the reasoning of the court in arriving at its finding was in effect legislation which belonged in every instance to congress, and not to the courts.

Attitude of "Business World."

Ever since the decree in this case in the lower court—the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern district of Missouri—was announced, hope has been expressed by the "business world" that the law would be modified so as not to interfere with what was designated as honest business. Tonight that section of the opinion, calling for the use of the rule of reason in applying the law, is regarded in many quarters as an answer to the prayers of the business world.

The opinion of the court was announced by Chief Justice White. In printed form it contained more than 20,000 words.

Test of Reasonableness.

The opinion of the court today was construed to mean that the tobacco case, like every other case in which restraints of trade are alleged, must be subjected to the new test of reasonableness of the restraint, as laid down in the Standard Oil decision.

By far the greater portion of the opinion of the Chief Justice was devoted to the justification of the court in requiring that the "rule of reason" be applied to restraints of trade before they were held to be violations of the Sherman anti-trust laws. The court found his justification in the common law of the forefathers and the general law of the country at the time of the enactment of the Sherman anti-trust law was passed. In short, the court held that the technical words of the statute were to be given the meaning, which those words had in the common law and in the law of the country at the time of the enactment. This meaning of the words, according to the court, called for the exercise of reason in determining what restraints on trade were prohibited.

Summary of Oil Case.

The Supreme Court holds: That this giant corporation must be dissolved within six months. Corporations whose contracts are "not unreasonably restrictive of competition" are not affected.

Other great corporations whose acts may be called into question will be dealt with according to the merits of their particular cases.

The court was unanimous as to the main features of the decision, Justice Harlan dissenting only as to a limitation of the application of the Sherman anti-trust law.

President Taft and Cabinet will consider immediately the entire trust situation, and the advisability of pressing for a federal incorporation act.

A decision in the tobacco case, which was expected simultaneously, was not announced today and may be handed down on May 29.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Ada, at its regular meeting to be held at the City Hall on Monday, May 22nd, 1911, at 8 o'clock P. M., will receive bids for sweeping, cleaning and sprinkling the streets of said City of Ada. Separate bids will be received for sweeping and cleaning, and for sprinkling, also bids will be received for all the work together. The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

W. B. JONES, City Clerk.

HORSE OF THE GOBI DESERT

Animal Discovered by Prjevaisky Never Has Been Famed and May Be a Distinct Species.

It is more difficult to domesticate the wild horse than it is to bring other species of wild animals under subjection.

Some years ago Prjevaisky, a Russian explorer, discovered a distinct wild horse in the Gobi desert, in the south of Mongolia. A herd of 30 colts were captured and landed in Europe. Most of them were sent to Russia, but a few were shipped to the estate of the duke of Bedford, in England.

They were ragged of coat and of awkward gait. All efforts to tame them have failed. They will not submit to man's rule and are therefore unserviceable. They become badly frightened when a man approaches nearer than two or three rods of them.

The Russians claim that by methods of comparative anatomy and in other ways they have proved that the Gobi desert horse is a distinct species of the genus horse. Most naturalists have until now believed that the true wild horses with an unbroken line of wild ancestry were extinct.

It is the general opinion that the domestic horse of today was mainly derived from three wild species, which have been named the steppe, forest and plateau varieties. The Gobi horse is a representative of the steppe variety. This horse in its wild state lives in the level districts and goes at night to the pasture lands and drinking places. At break of day it returns to the desert, where it rests until sunset.—New York Herald.

ANCIENT ISRAEL USED INK

Writings of Bible Times Inscribed on Potsherds Have Been Found in Samaria.

"That the ancient Israelites had a cheap and easy method of sending written messages which was in fairly common use is now an established fact," said George A. Reisner, assistant professor of Egyptology at Harvard, who for the last fourteen years has been conducting excavations in Egypt and Palestine. Professor Reisner just returned from the Campanian.

"We were excavating in Samaria, once capital of the northern kingdom of Israel, in 1908, when we came upon the palace of the Israelite kings. Last summer we found on the floor of one of the chambers of the palace a number of potsherds and on these shards were written messages; they related to titles or taxes paid to the king, and were written in an ink made of pure carbon or lampblack. These, perhaps, are the earliest specimens of Israelite work contemporaneous with the Bible. They were written in the reign of King Ahab."—New York Evening Post.

Precocious Infant.

William Lyon Phelps tells this story about Robert Louis Stevenson, as illustrating the cosmopolitanism of Russian character, which Professor Phelps says is accountable, in a measure, for the international effect and influence of Russian novels. Stevenson, writing from Mentone to his mother, 7 January, 1874, said: "We have two little Russian girls, with the youngest of whom, a little polyglot button of a three-year-old, I had the most laughable scene at lunch today. . . . She said something in Italian which made everybody laugh very much. . . . after some examination, she announced emphatically to the whole table, in German, that I was a madchen. . . . This hasty conclusion as to my sex she was led afterward to revise. . . . but her opinion was announced in a language quite unknown to me, and probably Russian. To complete the scroll of her accomplishments. . . . she said good-by to me in very commendable English." Three days later, Stevenson added, "The little Russian kid is only two and a half; she speaks six languages."

Economy in Smoke Prevention.

After remarking that there can be no hope of the general adoption of means to prevent the fouling of the air of great cities with factory smoke unless it can be demonstrated that the adoption of such means will result in the saving of money to the makers of the smoke, Prof. J. A. Switzer of the University of Tennessee records the result of experiments which he has made with smoke consumers based on the principle of injecting, with steam-jets, fresh air into the furnaces whenever fresh fuel is put upon the fires. He finds that the claim that such apparatus increases the efficiency of the boilers by increasing the evaporation of the water is well founded, and that there is a real economy in their use.—Youth's Companion.

"Noblesse Oblige."

In Mrs. Walford's story of Lord Mansfield, in her recent book, entitled "Recollections of a Scottish Novelist," the top note of propriety is reached. The noble lord's young nephew, seeing him annoyed at a railway station at having no servant at hand to get his newspapers, ran post-haste and procured them. Lord Mansfield showed no gratitude whatever. "Edward," was all he would say, "recollect, Edward, that a gentleman should never hurry himself in public."

GOOD NEWS.

Many Ada Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of bad back sufferers in Ada are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

John Gentilini, ice manufacturer, of Coalgate, Okla., says: "About a year ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Lane & Son's Drug Store and found them very effective in ridding me of a long-standing case of kidney trouble. I suffered from a dull ache through the small of my back and limbs and I had other symptoms of kidney disease which were very annoying. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first and it was not long after I began using them that every symptom of my trouble disappeared."

OKLAHOMA LOSES FIGHT FOR GAS

Washington, May 15.—The Oklahoma statute prohibiting the piping of natural gas out of a state was declared unconstitutional in the supreme court today in an opinion handed down by Justice McKenna, Justices Holmes, Lurton and Hughes dissenting. The case came up over the attempt of the Oklahoma authorities to prevent the Kansas Natural Gas Company from getting right of way over public lands, etc., for a pipe line that was to carry Oklahoma natural gas to Kansas City and other points. The state took the attitude that it was necessary for the proper conservation of its natural resources and that the ruling principle of the statute "is conservation and not commerce." On this point the court says:

"The Oklahoma statute does not alone regulate the right of the reduction to possession of the gas, but when the right is exercised, when the gas becomes property, takes from it the attributes of property the right to dispose of it; indeed, selects its market to reserve it for future purchasers and use within the state on the ground that the welfare of the state will thereby be subserved. The results of the contention repel its acceptance."

The lower court held the law unconstitutional and sustained an injunction against the state officers from its enforcement, and this view is upheld by the decision of the supreme court today.

Mrs. B. A. Mason is reported to be suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis. It is feared that an operation may be found necessary.
